Young Woman Fatally Hurt When Tar

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., February 12.—Miss Lina Sykes, a young woman about twenty-two years of age, met with an accident this afternoon at 1 o'clock at her home on Parsonage Street, which will probably cost her life. The young woman was heating a pot of tar on a cooking stove. When she lifted the pot from the opening the bottom fell out, spilling the contents in the fire and all over the stove, inamediately-the room was filled with fire and smoke, and the young woman's clothes caught fire. Members of the family detected the fire, turned in a fire alarm and went to her rescue. They found her clothes and har burned off and face and body in a frightful condition. Dr. McMullen was summoned, and upon examination found that she was most horribly burned. He is doing everything possible to relieve her suffering, but states to-night that he fears she is injured beyond recovery. The fire company responded promptly and saved the [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] weights, $7. house with slight damage.
